

The four major means of transport are roadways, railways, waterways and airways.

